

We can help you to interpret and present archaeological, historical and heritage material.
Examples would include:

- Developing educational material for school groups.
- Writing and presenting information to a specific audience such as visitors to museums and heritage attractions.

In conjunction with Juicy Media we are able to design digital resources such as web based history and heritage presentations.

